forts are now being made to settle the stock-vards strike by mediation. Negotlations begun early to-day between the tion and representatives of several labor which would undoubtedly be involved in the strike, should it be prolonged much longer, resulted to-night in the appointment of a committee, comneeting to negotiate with the packers to-morrow morning in an attempt to bring about a meeting between the em-ployers and the striking unions. It was the centiment of all who attended today's conference that should the meeting be arranged between the opposing interests a settlement satisfactory to both sides could be reached.

Meantime Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has been summoned to Chicago and see if he cannot accomplish something through mediation. Mr. Gompers will arrive here Sunday morning.

MAKES INVESTIGATION.

When the packers were told of the intended visits of the intermediary committee to-morrow all of them declined to make any comment on what, if any success, might be expected from the meeting. Under the direction of Mayor Carter H. Harrison, who was urged to take employers promised to have these its speedily remedied. A Lovely Day at Beautiful Wallawhatoola on the Cowpasture.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

MILLEORO, VA., August 10.—The gates of Wallawhatoola never stand ajar-you pult the ropes, they spring wide open and close again behind you; then you find yourself trespassing upon private property, but the way before you is so broad and inviting you saunter on for a quarter of a mile, over a well beaton slate driveway, till you get a glimpse of Wallawhatoola. Then you find a Leautiful river, the banks all concealed by a mass of honeysuckle vines, but the strong suspension bridge rises up before you and you cross over, stopping midway to enjoy the scenes present, away up stream in a bend of the river, where the tree tops seem to blend together, we saw a little boat a gentlenian and lady lit therein with a string of bass hanging overboard. Some distance below them a dozen white ducks were taking a bath. The waters are clear and sparkling, and ripple joyfully to join the James. On looking down stream, you see the alum, well, high above bigh-water mark, in the cliffs. This water is real, not imitation, for if you go upon the cliffs and scale off chips off slate, you find them covered with a coat of alum. On over the long bridge you go, and finally descend eighteen broad steps and then you stop short, for you are standing beneath the most magnificent eim tree you ever saw in Virginia, lifteen feet in circumference, with its great spreading branches shading an acro of ground.

This tree is very old, for it was a new the fine dead tell no tales, those and while the 'dead tell no tales,' those and while the 'dead t
